Asset Protection Wills	These Wills include an immediate post-death interest trust (IPDI) on the death of the first of a couple, usually for the benefit of the surviving spouse or civil partner. The IPDI provides the survivor with an income, and/or the right to occupy property, whilst ensuring asset protection during the lifetime of the survivor by ring-fencing the assets of the first to die against nursing home fees and re-marriage. Asset Protection Wills are particularly useful if either or both of the couple have been married previously which may mean that the couple have different beneficiaries. Asset Protection Wills retain the possibility of using the transferable nil-rate band.	Product guide Life interest trusts in Wills
